As Professor Oogeez tries to figure out an old underground map, his friends in the forest could hear him say, "OOOh Geeez!" "Which way should I go?"

When suddenly, a tremendous earthquake hit!! The ground opened up! All you could hear was "OOOh Geeezz" as the professor fell in!

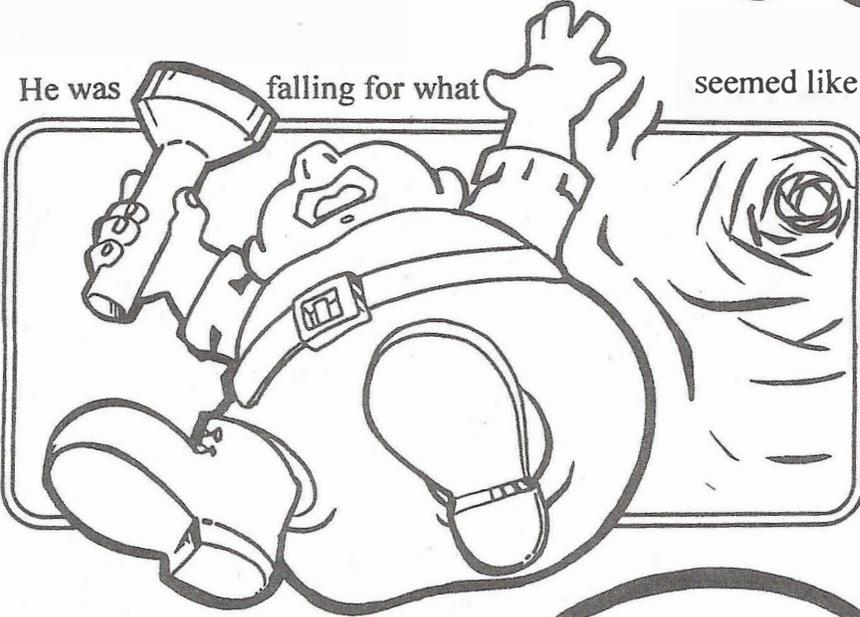

Down he fell,
still holding on to his flashlight.

Not knowing what to expect.

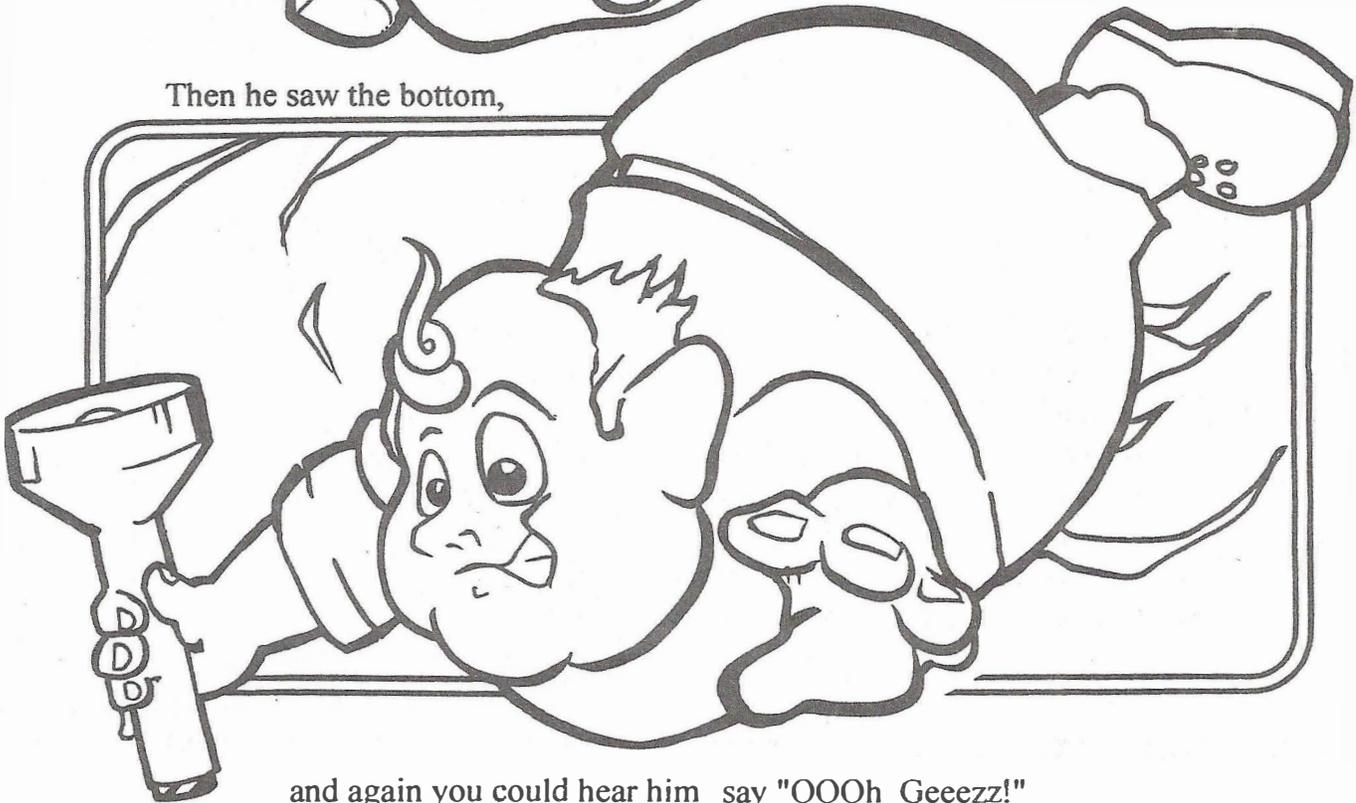

He was falling for what seemed like a long time,

'til he finally
said to himself
"Well, so far,
so good!"

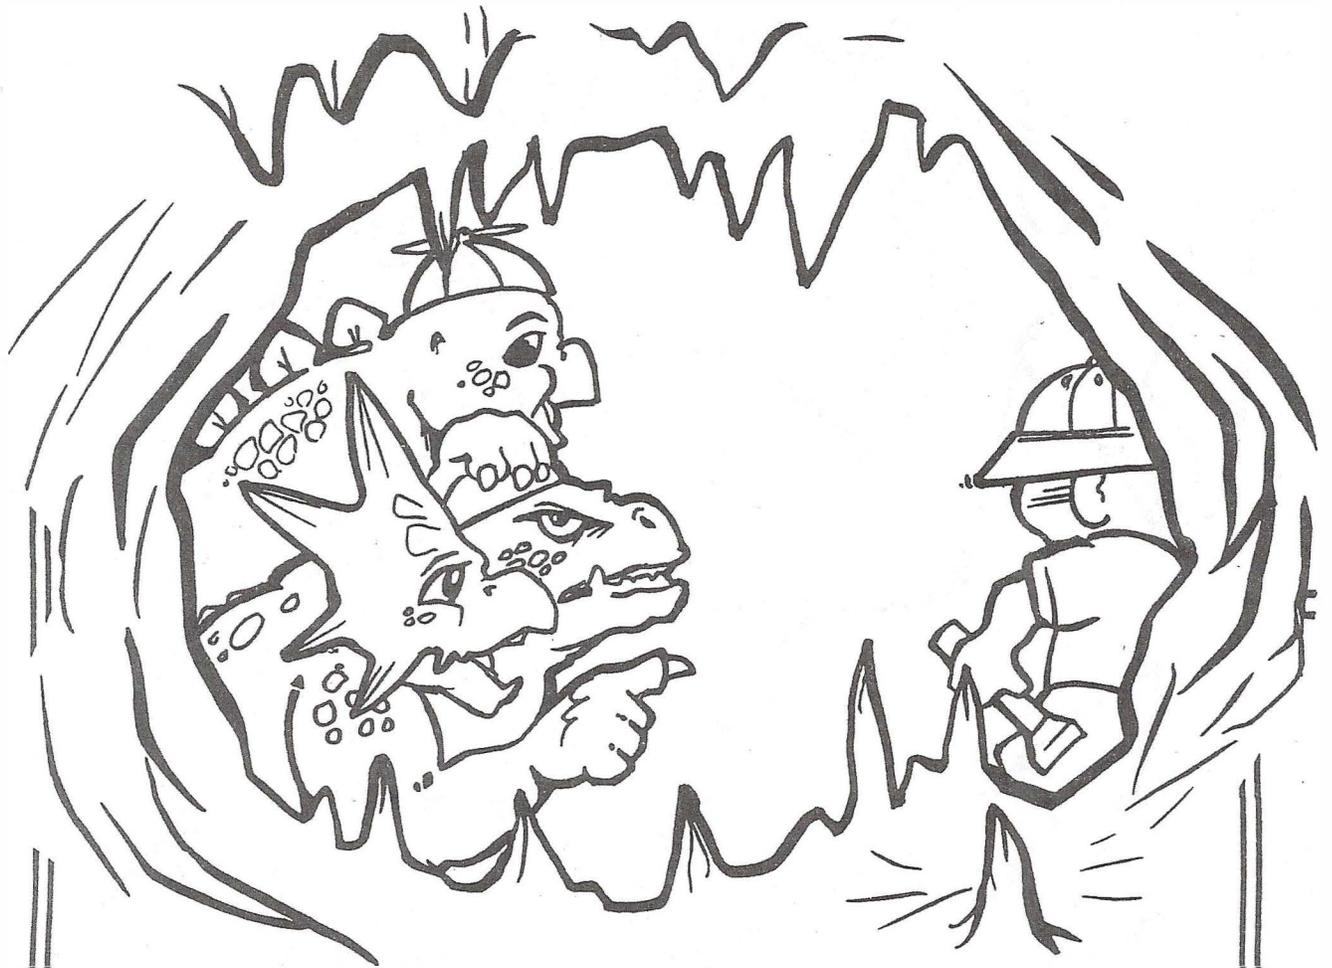

Then he saw the bottom,

and again you could hear him say "OOOh Geeezz!"

He hit the ground and rolled to a stop. He was glad he was only bruised and not really hurt. He dusted himself off, turned on his flashlight, and had a look around. "I know I wanted to find the underground cave," he said, "but there must have been an easier way to do it!" As he moved his flashlight about, he saw he was not alone. He discovered a family of bats living in the cave. "Now if they got IN," he thought, "there must be a way OUT!!"

What Professor Oogeez didn't know, is that he had more company than just a family of bats!!!

Three more sets of eyes were watching him very closely, and walking right up behind him.

Suddenly, the three sets of eyes surrounded him.
Now they were more than eyes, but three different shapes, and colors too! In fact, they were three different types of Dinosaurs!!

"Can you help us get home?" they asked all together!

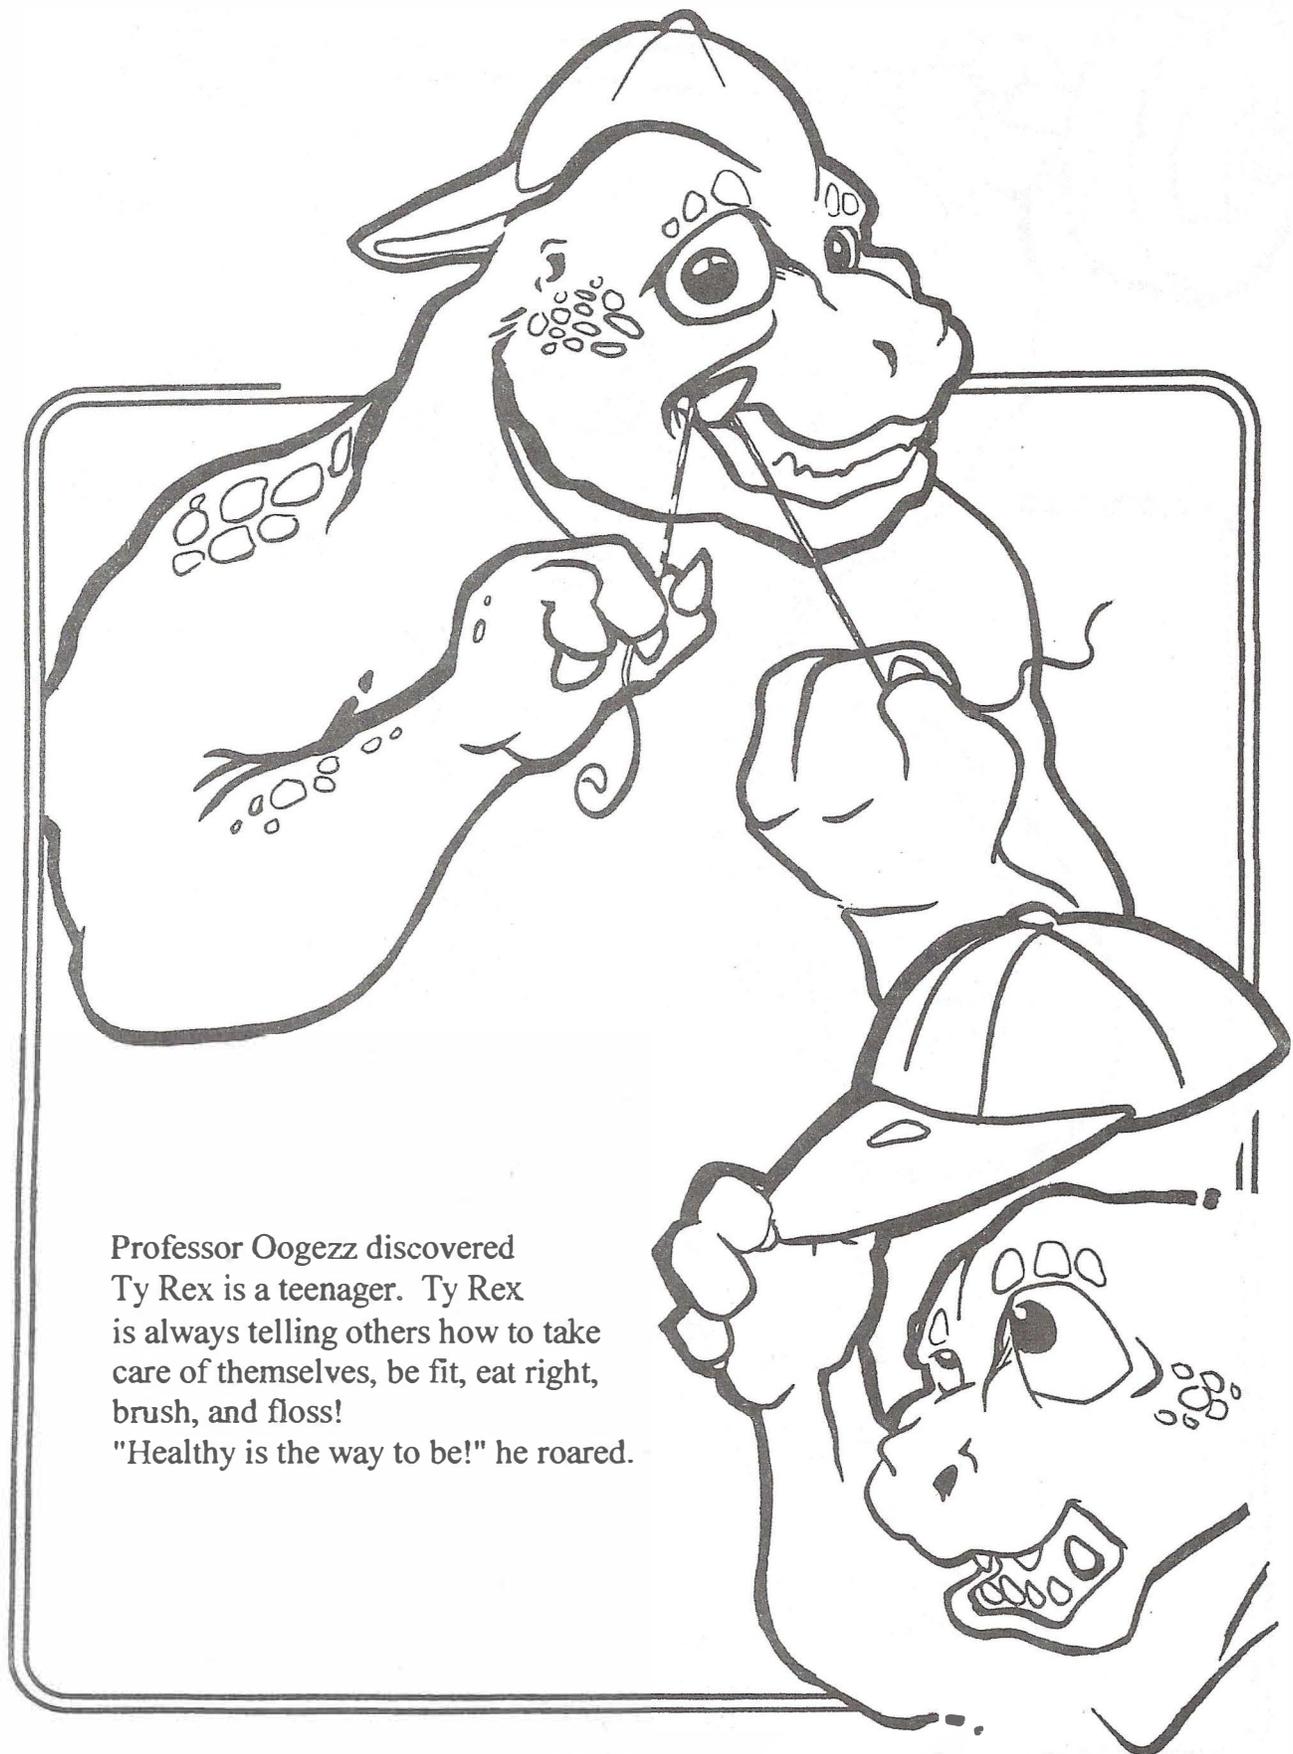

The professor was scared, but delighted that the young dinosaurs could actually talk! He then managed to say, "I'm lost myself, but with my map, maybe we can find the way UP and out!"

The dinos explained that they have not been living up above ground. Their world is far underground, and the big rumble blocked their way home.

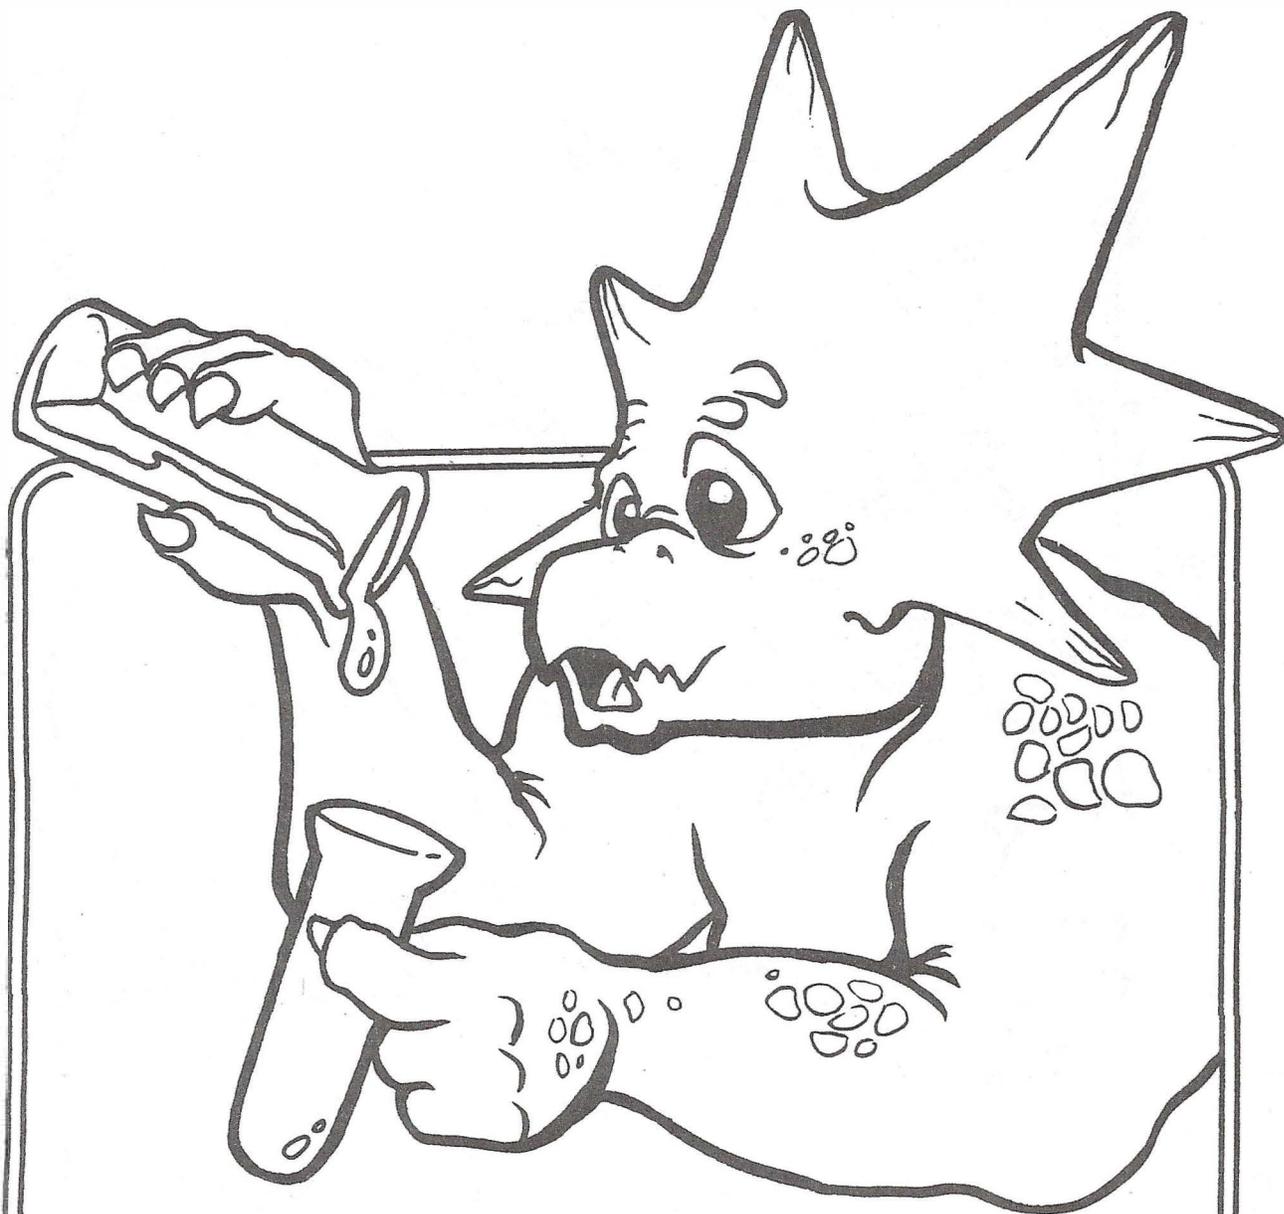

Professor Oogeez thought about this for a moment and said "Well.., to be safe, you had better come home with me for now!" "By the way," he said, "do you have names?"

The dino that resembles a reddish colored TYRANNOSAURUS REX walked right up to him and said, "I'm Ty Rex!"

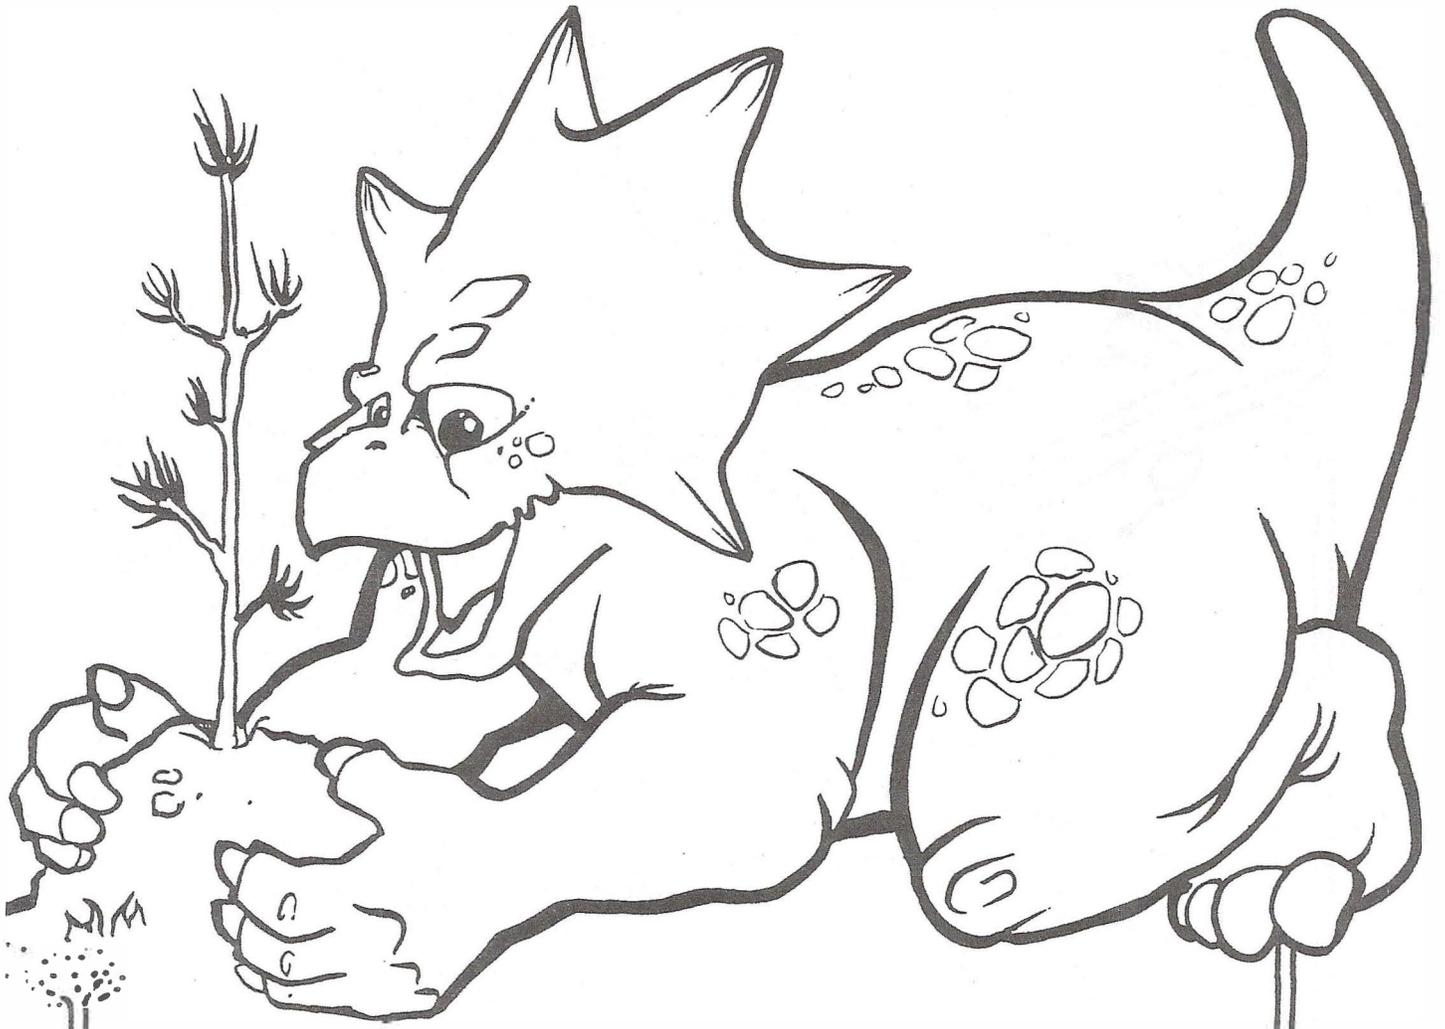

Professor Oogezz discovered Ty Rex is a teenager. Ty Rex is always telling others how to take care of themselves, be fit, eat right, brush, and floss!
"Healthy is the way to be!" he roared.

Next, the spike headed, yellowish brown dino introduced himself as Rocko Gecko! The professor recognized him as a Styracosaurus.

"I love to try to figure things out!" he said. "I've always been very good in science!"

"Also," said Rocko Gecko, "taking care of our world means , keeping things clean, green, and fighting against pollution. Helping these ways are number one in my book!"

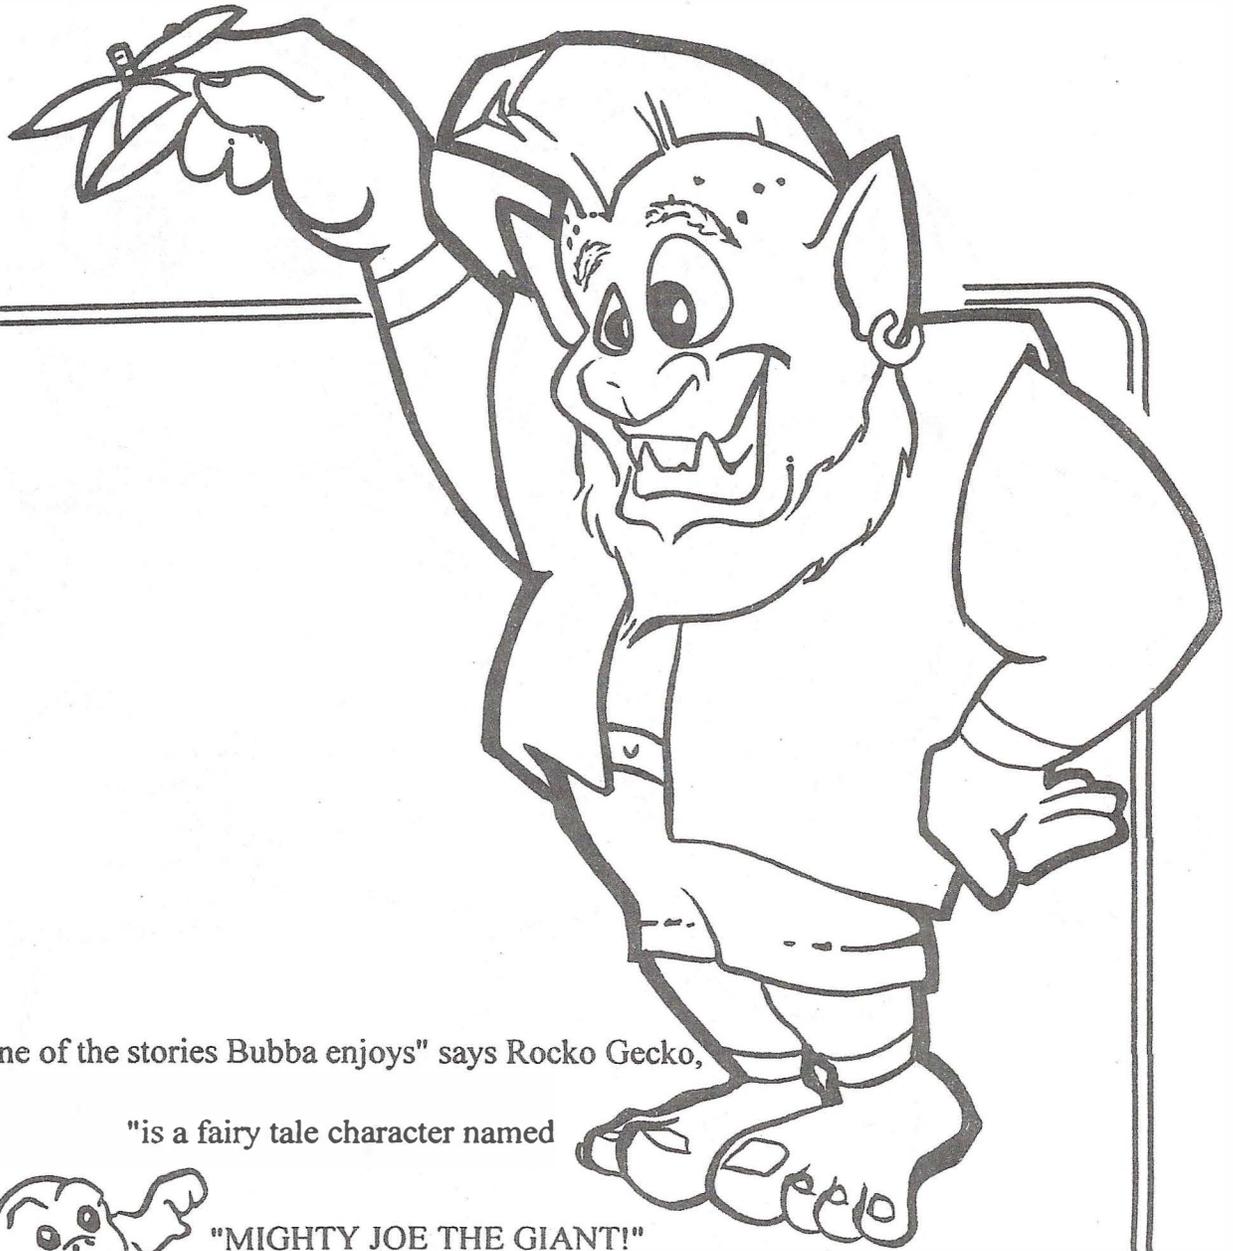

Then the professor noticed a very large, green baby Stegosaurus, wearing of all things, a propeller beanie. Ty Rex and Rocko Gecko said his name was "Bubba" and that he was only two years old. "I two!" cried, Bubba. Next he waddled over and gave professor Oogeez an enormous hug! A raccoon, who was also frightened, became Bubba's friend very soon!

Ty Rex and Rocko Gecko both take turns reading stories to Bubba before he goes to sleep!

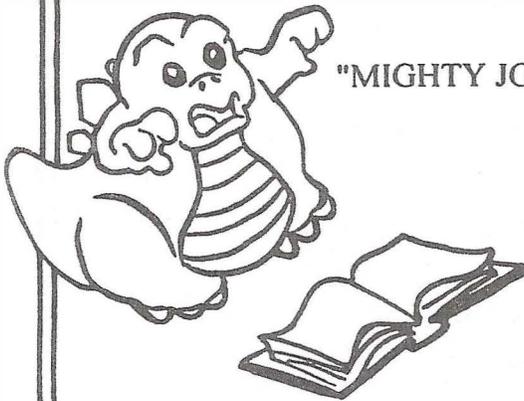

"One of the stories Bubba enjoys" says Rocko Gecko,

"is a fairy tale character named

"MIGHTY JOE THE GIANT!"

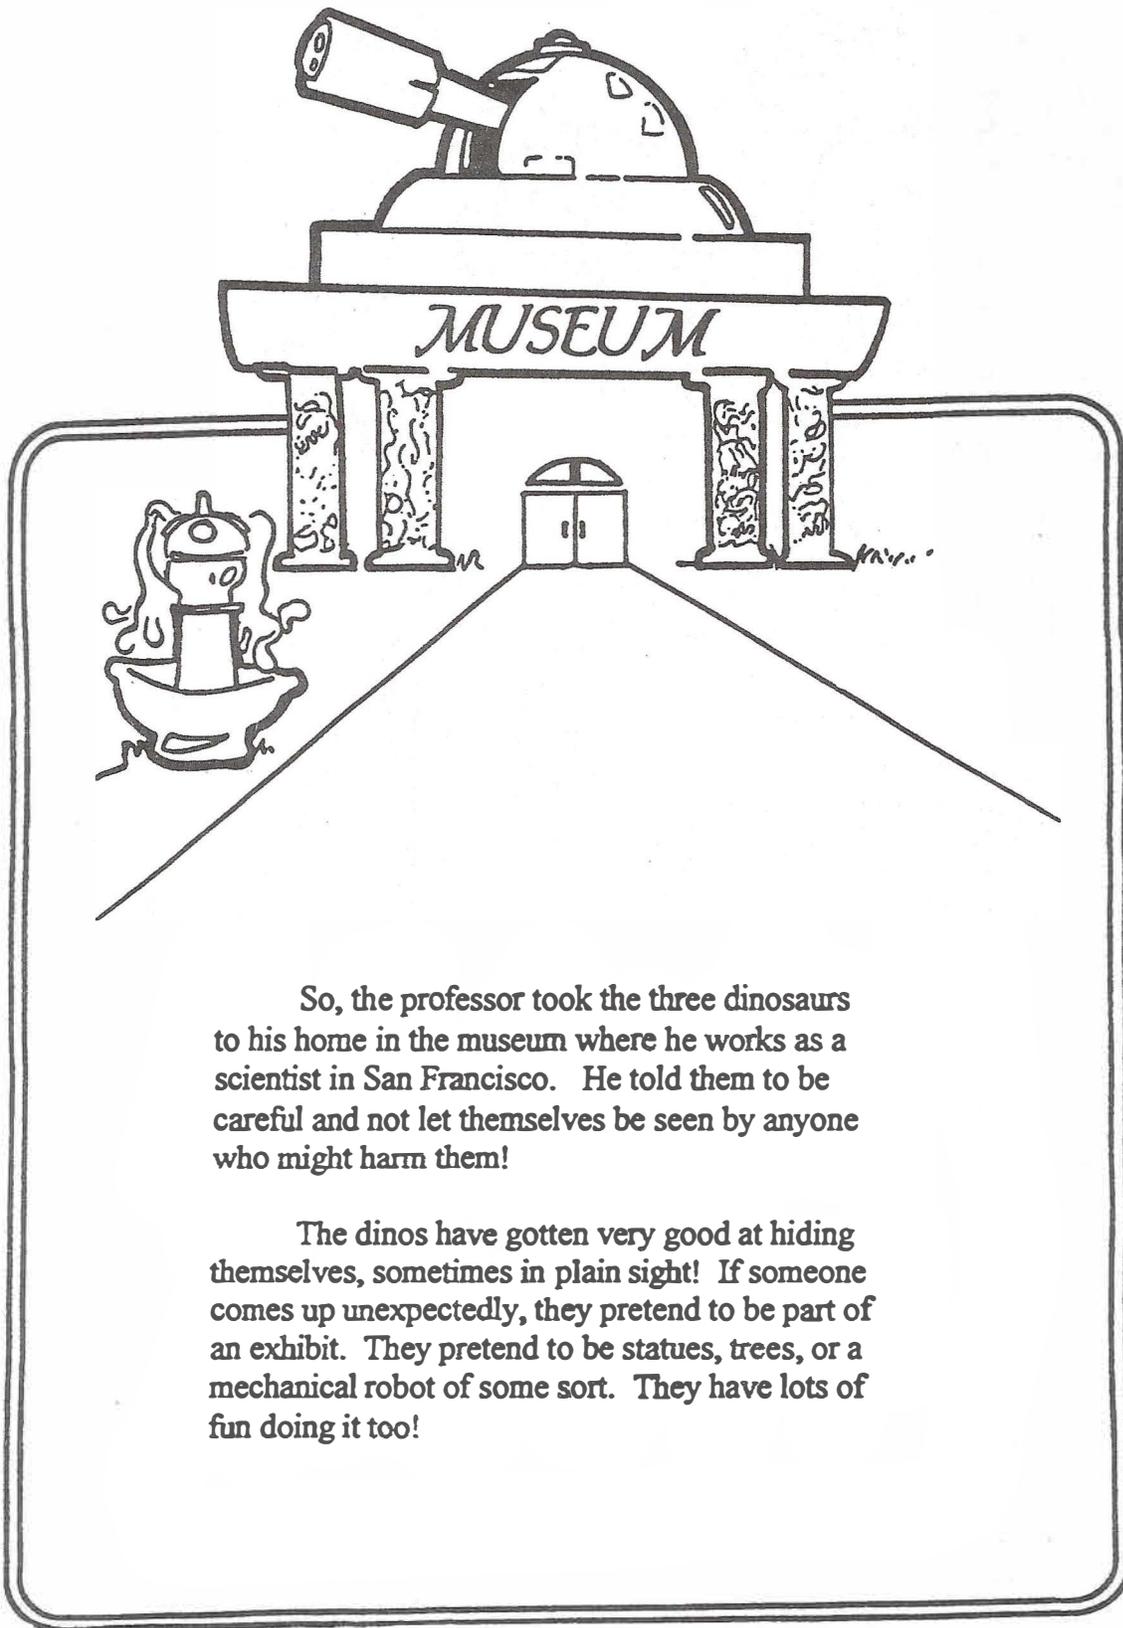

"MIGHTY JOE THE GIANT"

travels the world, above and below ground, collecting hats. He also loves to dance!

Bubba's favorite story is "LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD!" In Bubba's version though, Little Red Riding Hood's kindness turns "Timber the Wolf" into a nice wolf. Little Red Riding Hood and Timber the Wolf are best friends now!

So, the professor took the three dinosaurs to his home in the museum where he works as a scientist in San Francisco. He told them to be careful and not let themselves be seen by anyone who might harm them!

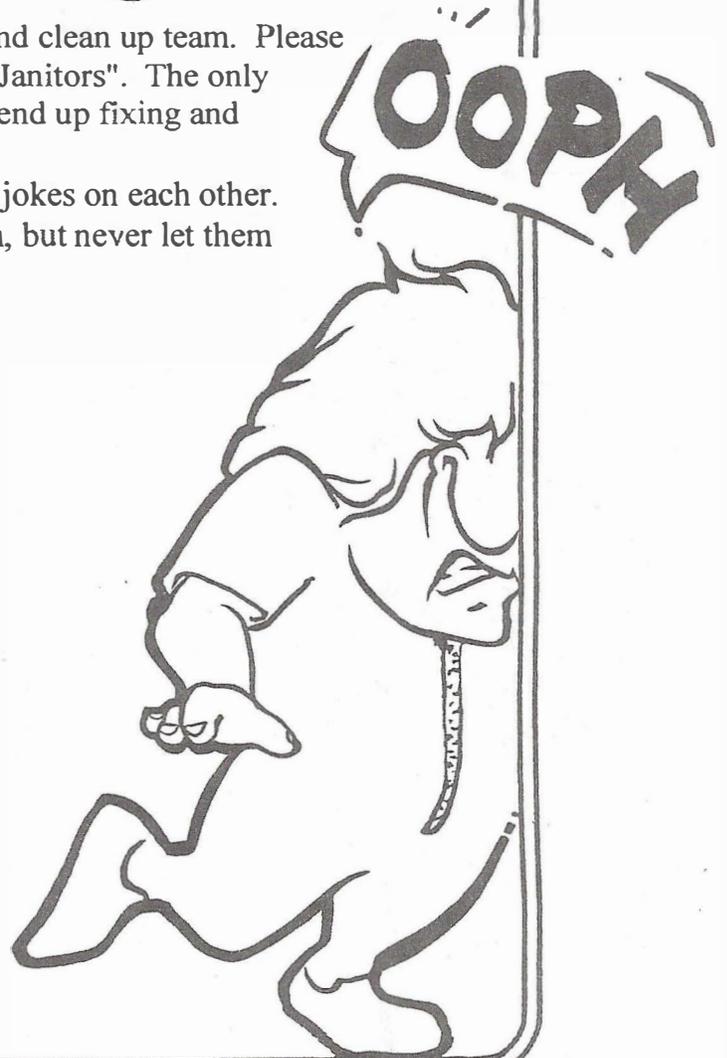

The dinos have gotten very good at hiding themselves, sometimes in plain sight! If someone comes up unexpectedly, they pretend to be part of an exhibit. They pretend to be statues, trees, or a mechanical robot of some sort. They have lots of fun doing it too!

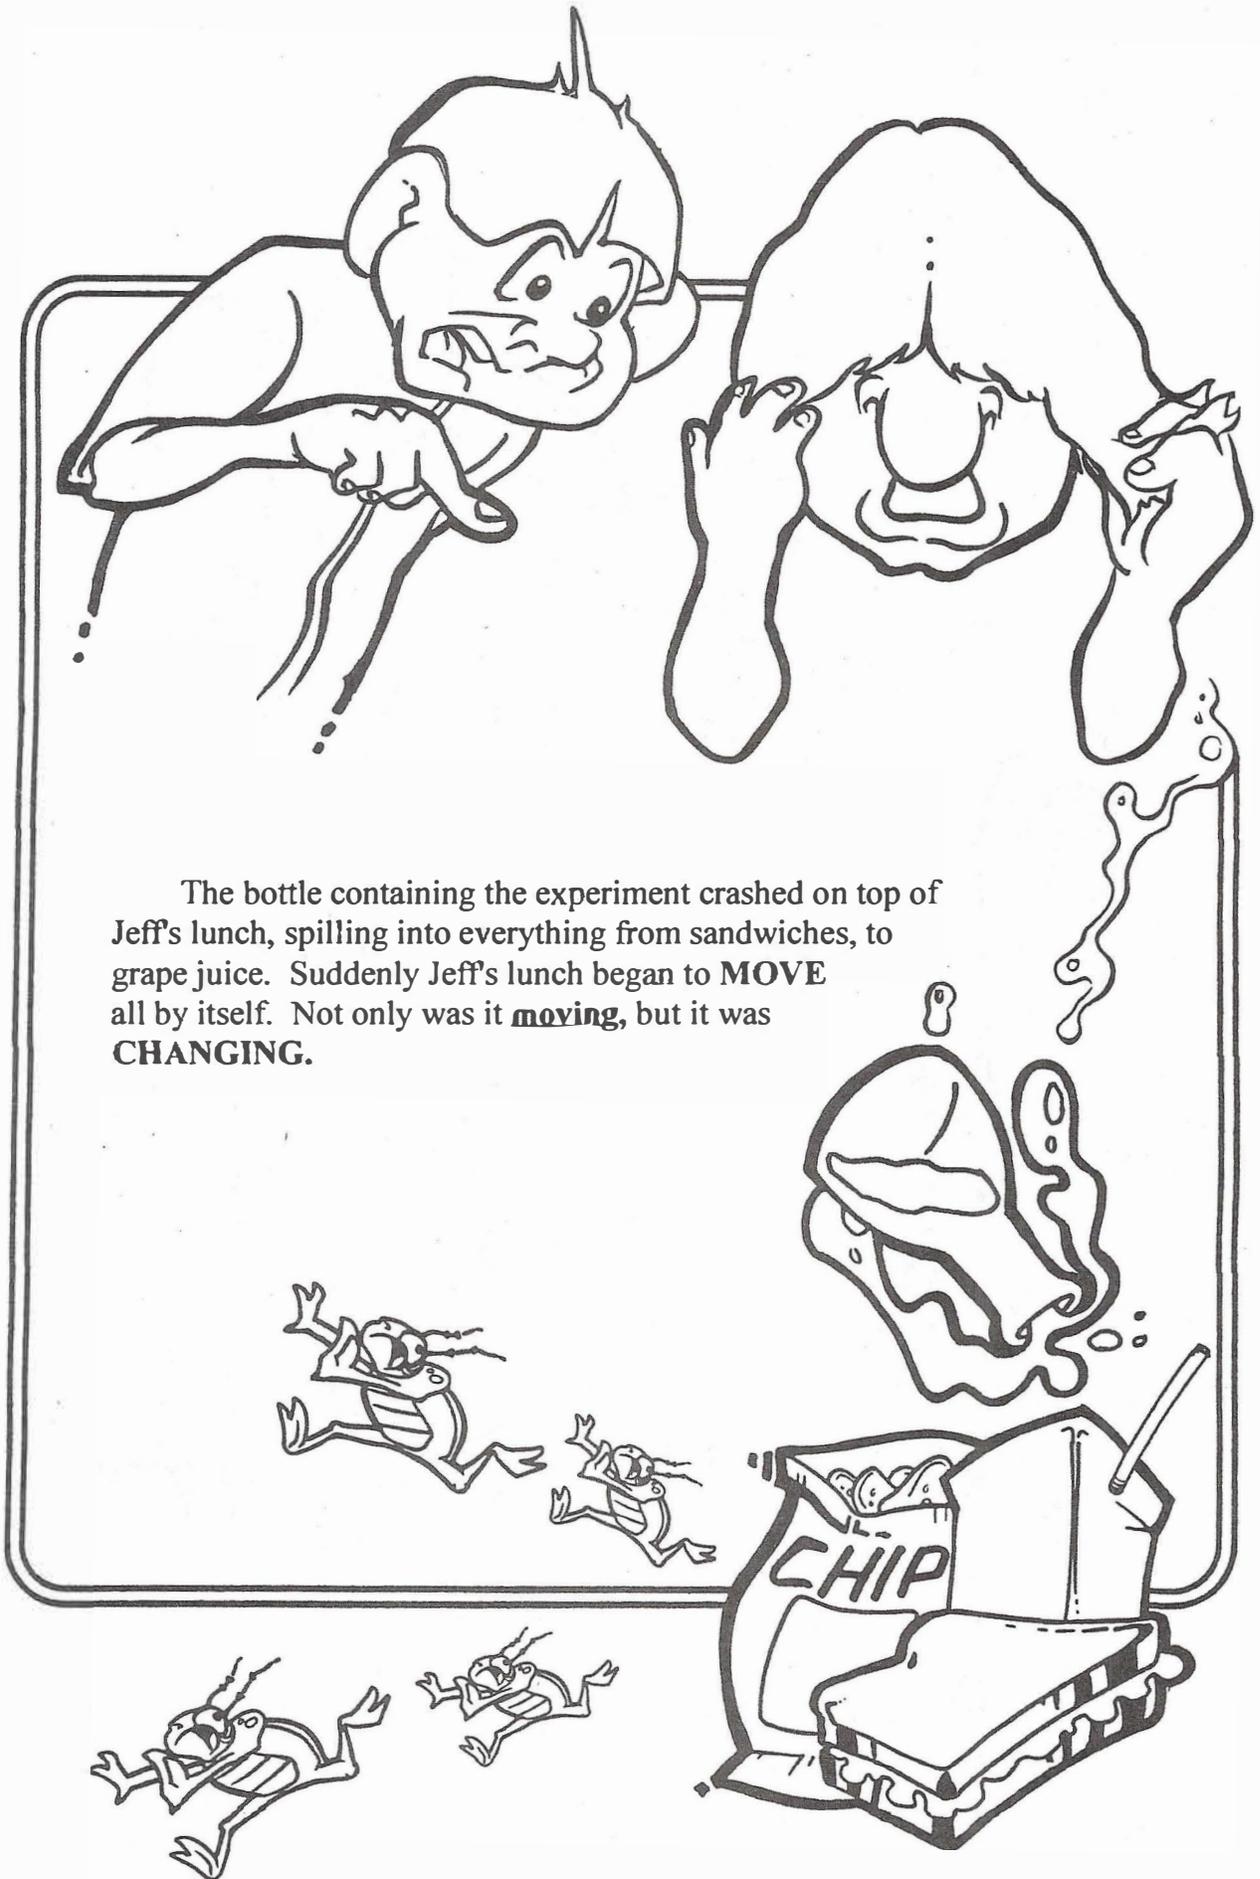

Every museum has it's fix-it and clean up team. Please meet ANDY & JEFF the "Jammin Janitors". The only problem is, these bunglers usually end up fixing and cleaning up their own messes.

These two are always playing jokes on each other. Even the Dinos play tricks on them, but never let them know who it was!

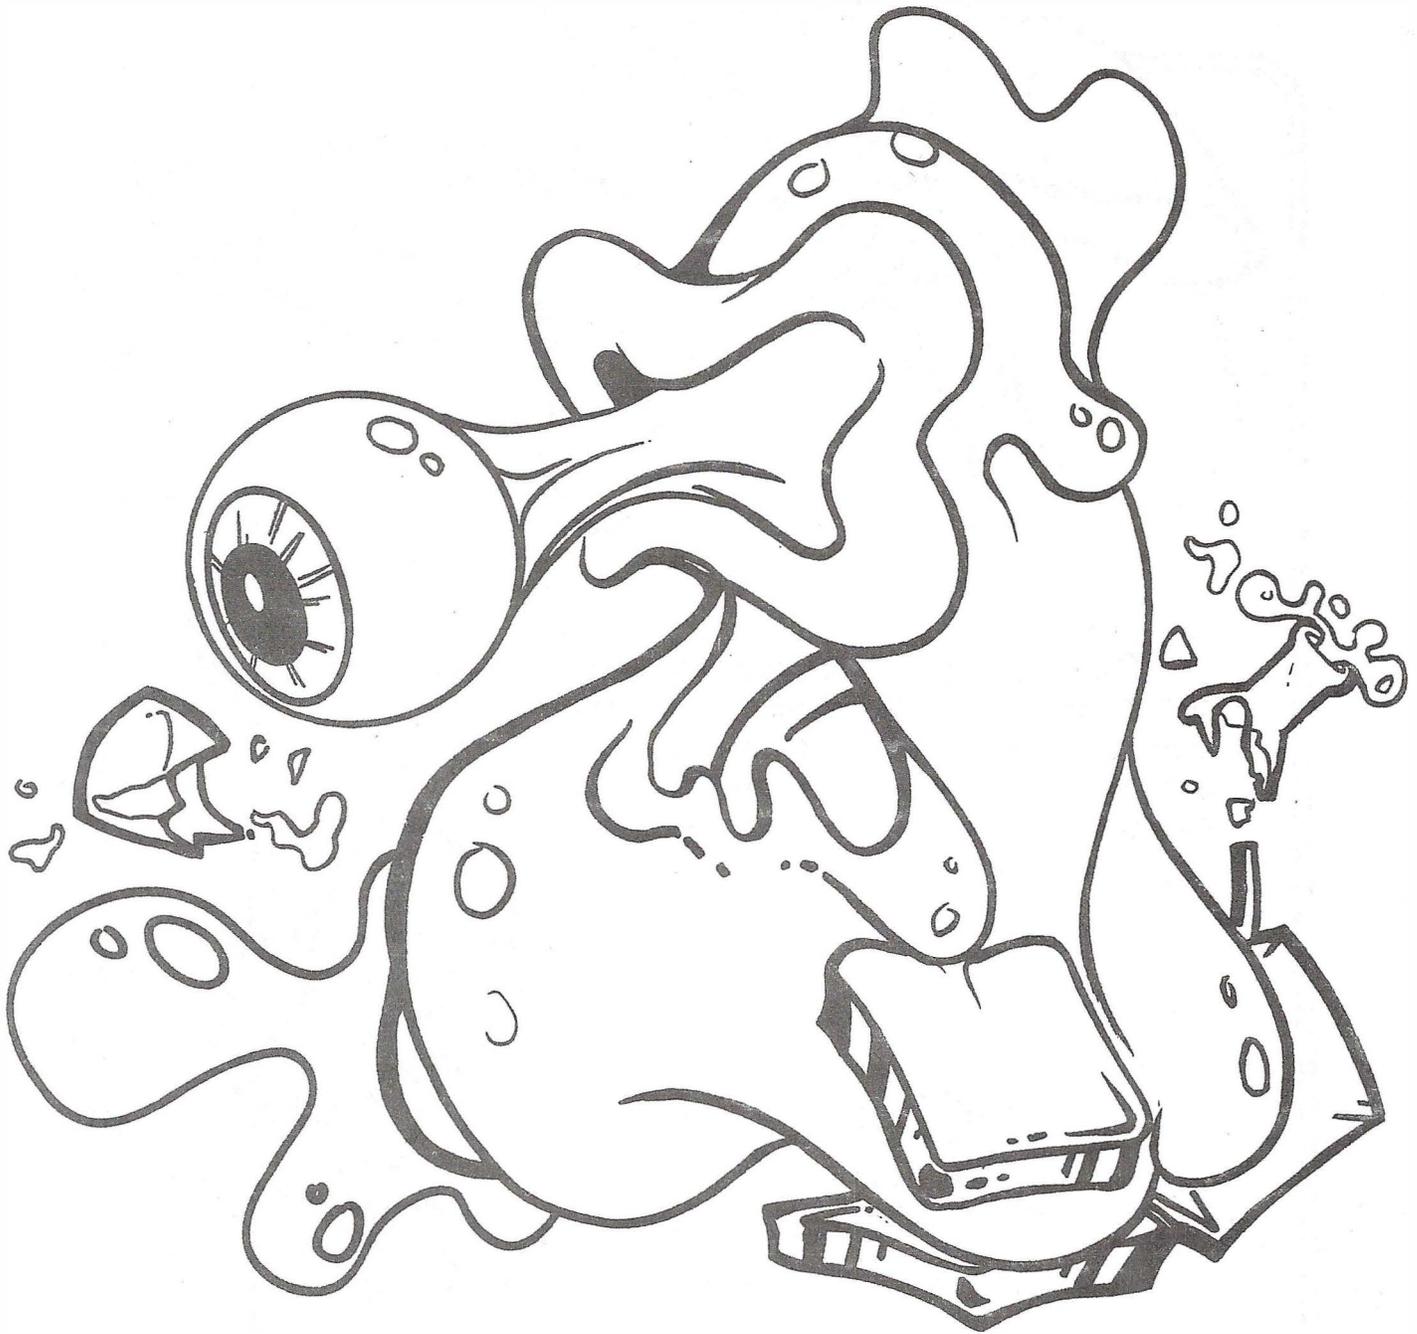

One day, Andy & Jeff were goofing around
as usual,
WHEN SUDDENLY,
Jeff accidentally knocked over one of professor Oogeez's experiments!!!

The bottle containing the experiment crashed on top of Jeff's lunch, spilling into everything from sandwiches, to grape juice. Suddenly Jeff's lunch began to MOVE all by itself. Not only was it moving, but it was CHANGING.

Then, wouldn't you know it, LAUNCHED FROM LUNCH along with the professor's secret formula emerged BLOBULUS!! He is friendly enough, but slimy, messy, and always hungry!

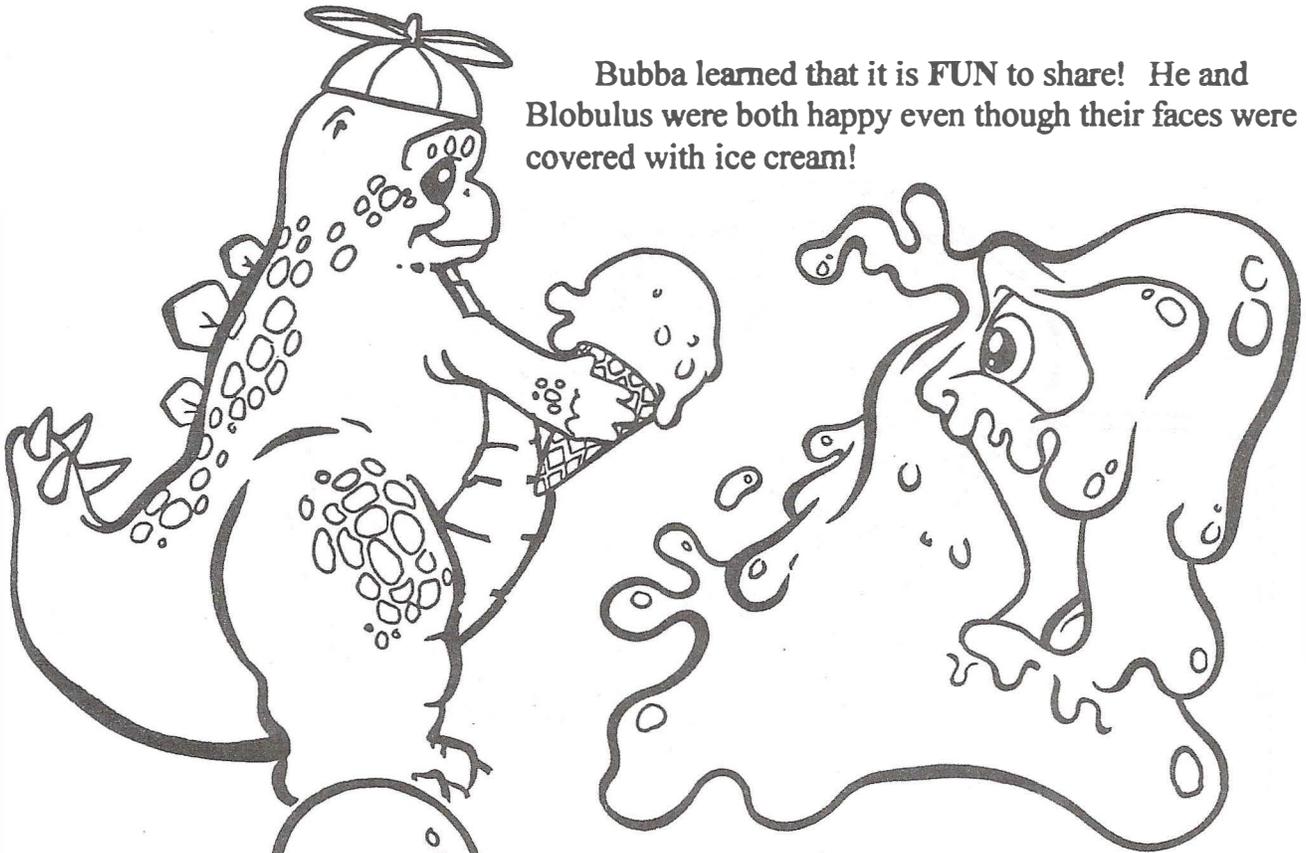

Blobulus and Bubba have something in common.
THEY LOVE SWEETS!!

Bubba had not yet learned to share, and was always saying "IS MINE, IS MINE!"

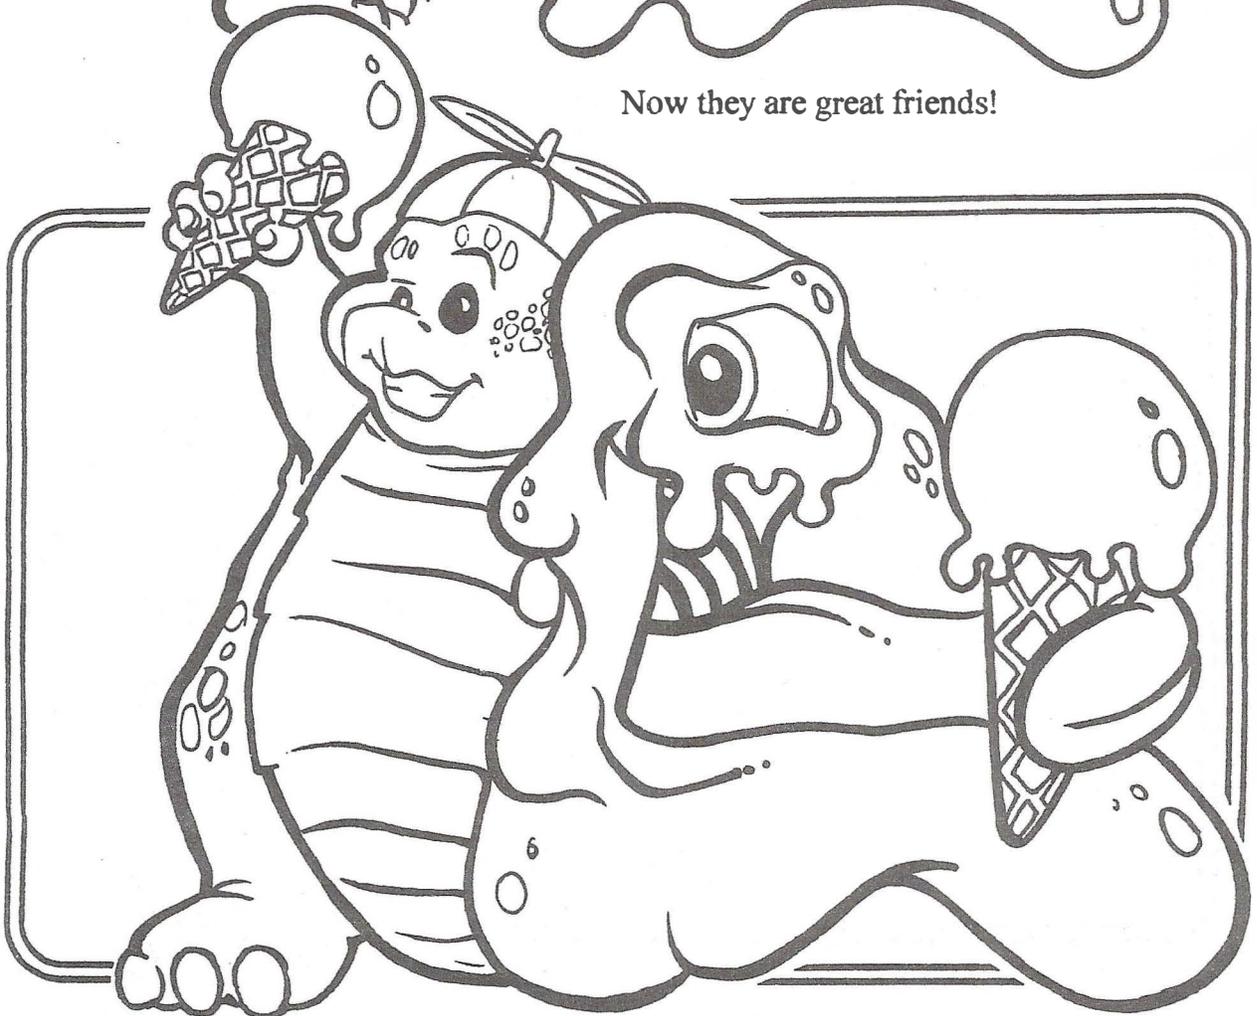

One afternoon, Bubba was eating an ice cream cone. He could see that Blobulus was really upset because he wanted an ice cream cone too!

Bubba learned that it is FUN to share! He and Blobulus were both happy even though their faces were covered with ice cream!

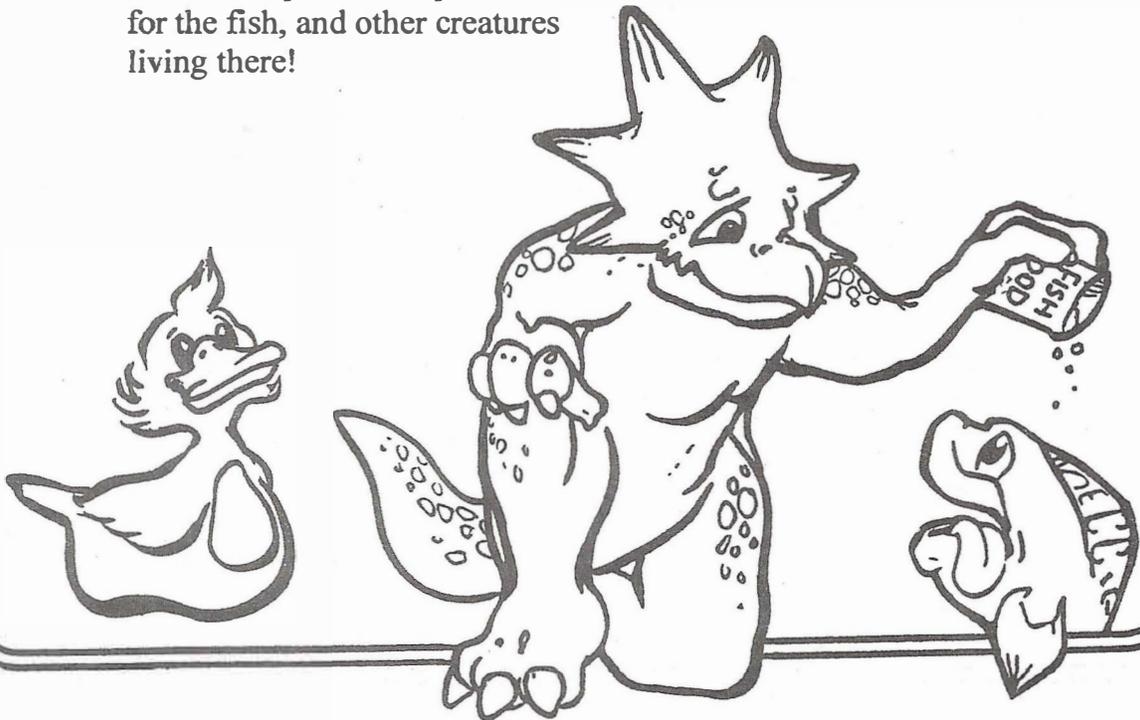

Now they are great friends!

To help fight pollution around the museum, Ty Rex works on professor Oogeez's car to make it run smoother and cleaner.

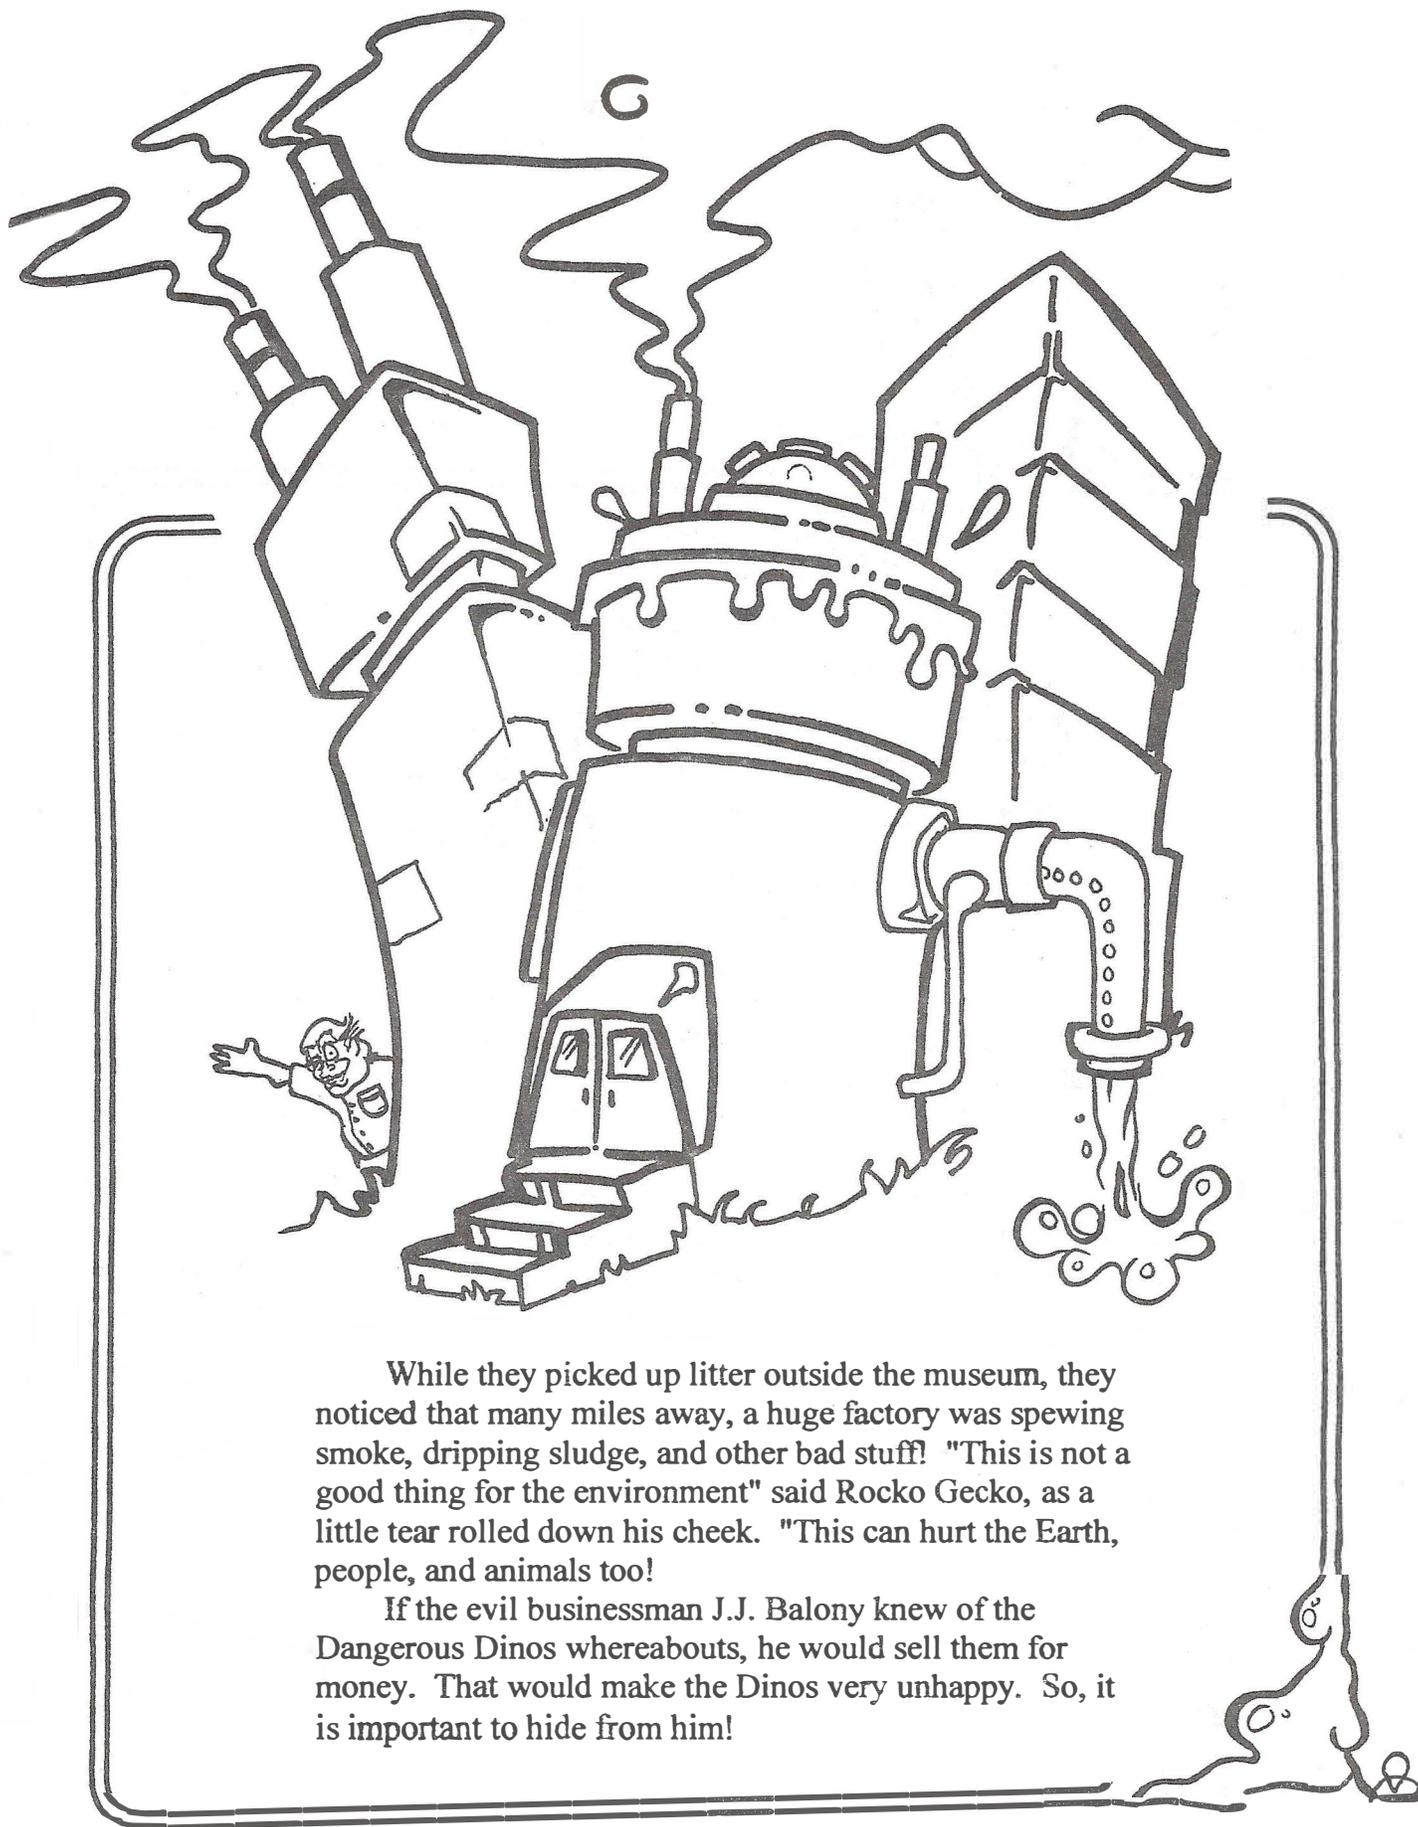

Rocko Gecko clears the streams of garbage around the parks, and ponds. He also cares for the fish, and other creatures living there!

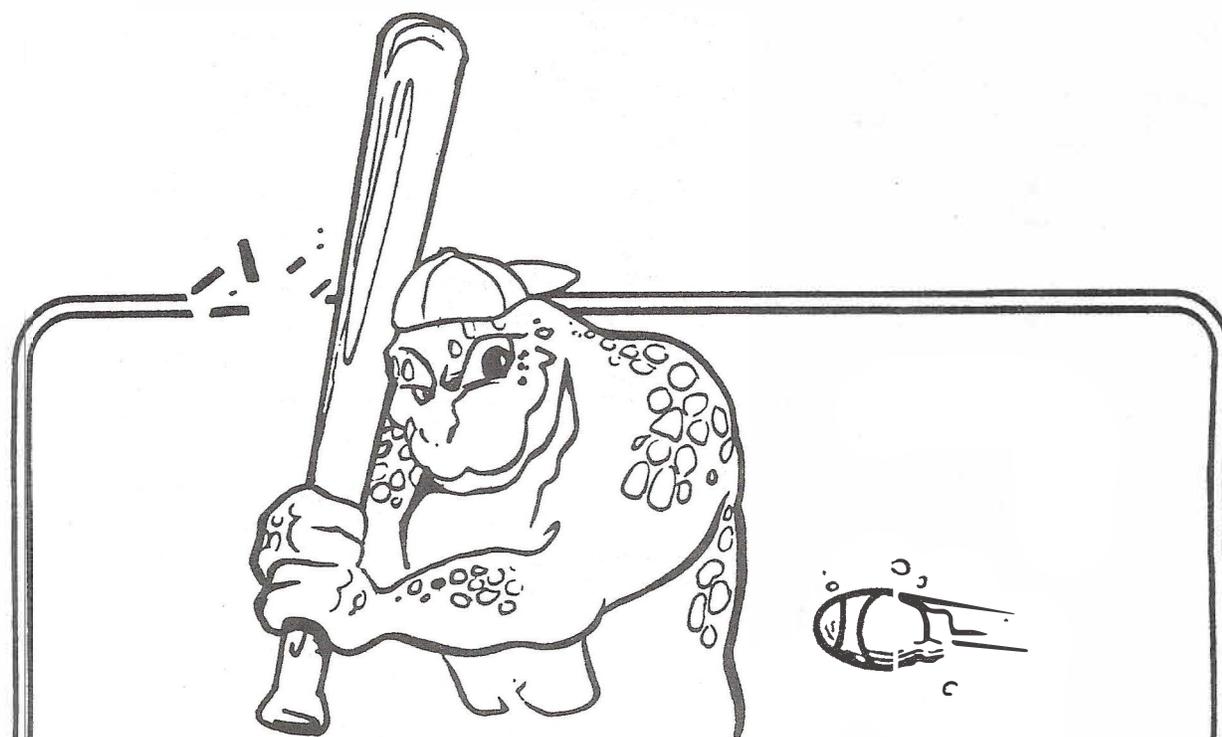

All three dinos love the idea of recycling and do their best each day. When no one is looking they pick up litter around the museum and put it in its proper container.

To the "Dangerous Dinos" recycling can be a game that's lots of fun!

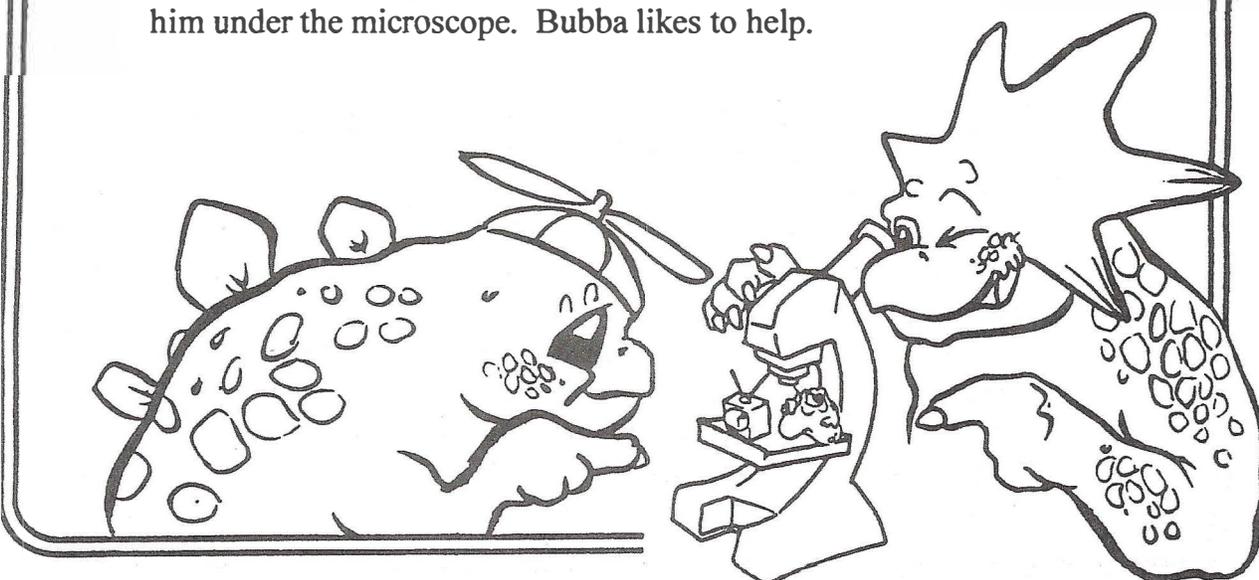

While they picked up litter outside the museum, they noticed that many miles away, a huge factory was spewing smoke, dripping sludge, and other bad stuff! "This is not a good thing for the environment" said Rocko Gecko, as a little tear rolled down his cheek. "This can hurt the Earth, people, and animals too!

If the evil businessman J.J. Balony knew of the Dangerous Dinos whereabouts, he would sell them for money. That would make the Dinos very unhappy. So, it is important to hide from him!

All three take time to do the things they enjoy!
Baseball is one of their favorite sports!

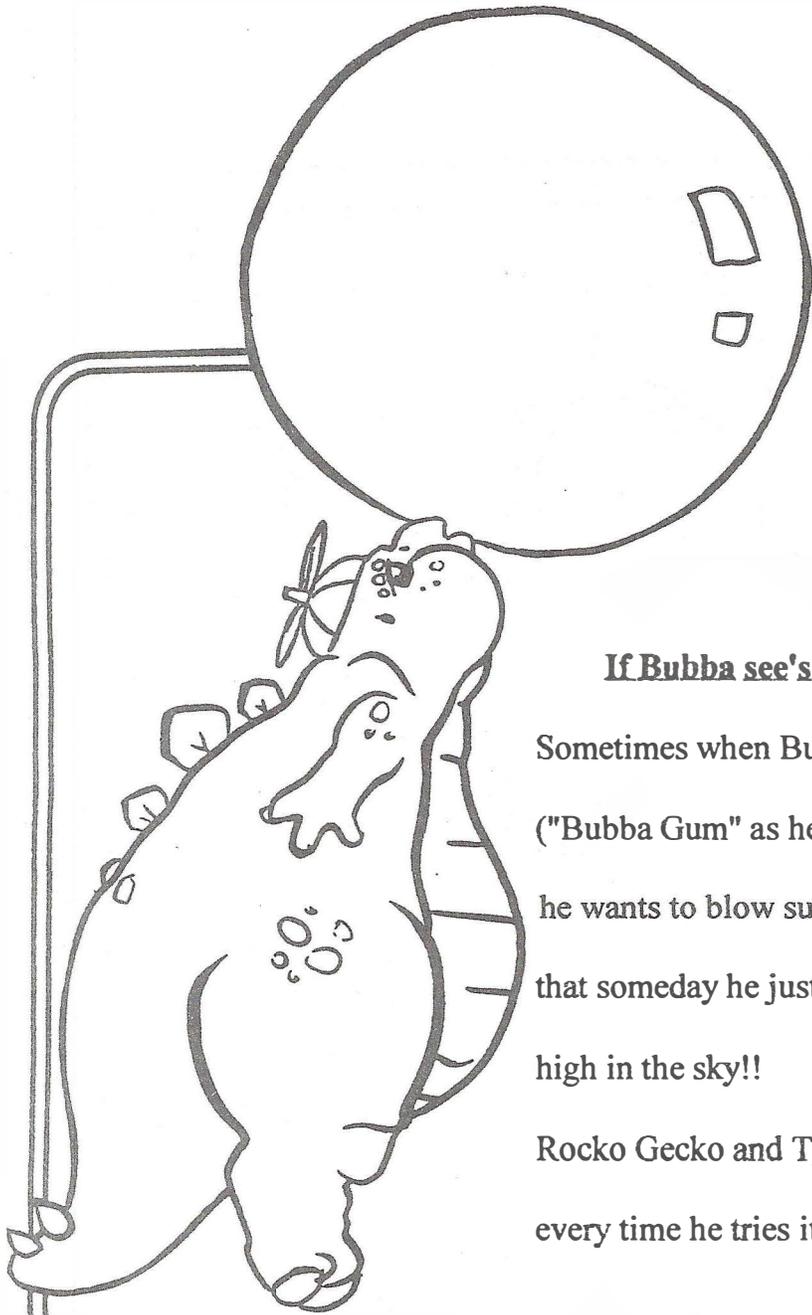

Rocko Gecko performs his experiments. Since Blobulus can change his size, Rocko Gecko loves to watch him under the microscope. Bubba likes to help.

Bubba can always be found in the park, rolling on the grass, and playing on the swings. He has fun with the animals and children who come into the park.

Sometimes Ty Rex and Rocko Gecko also play with Bubba to keep him company. They have to admit that they also love the park!

If Bubba see's a candy store, Watch Out!!

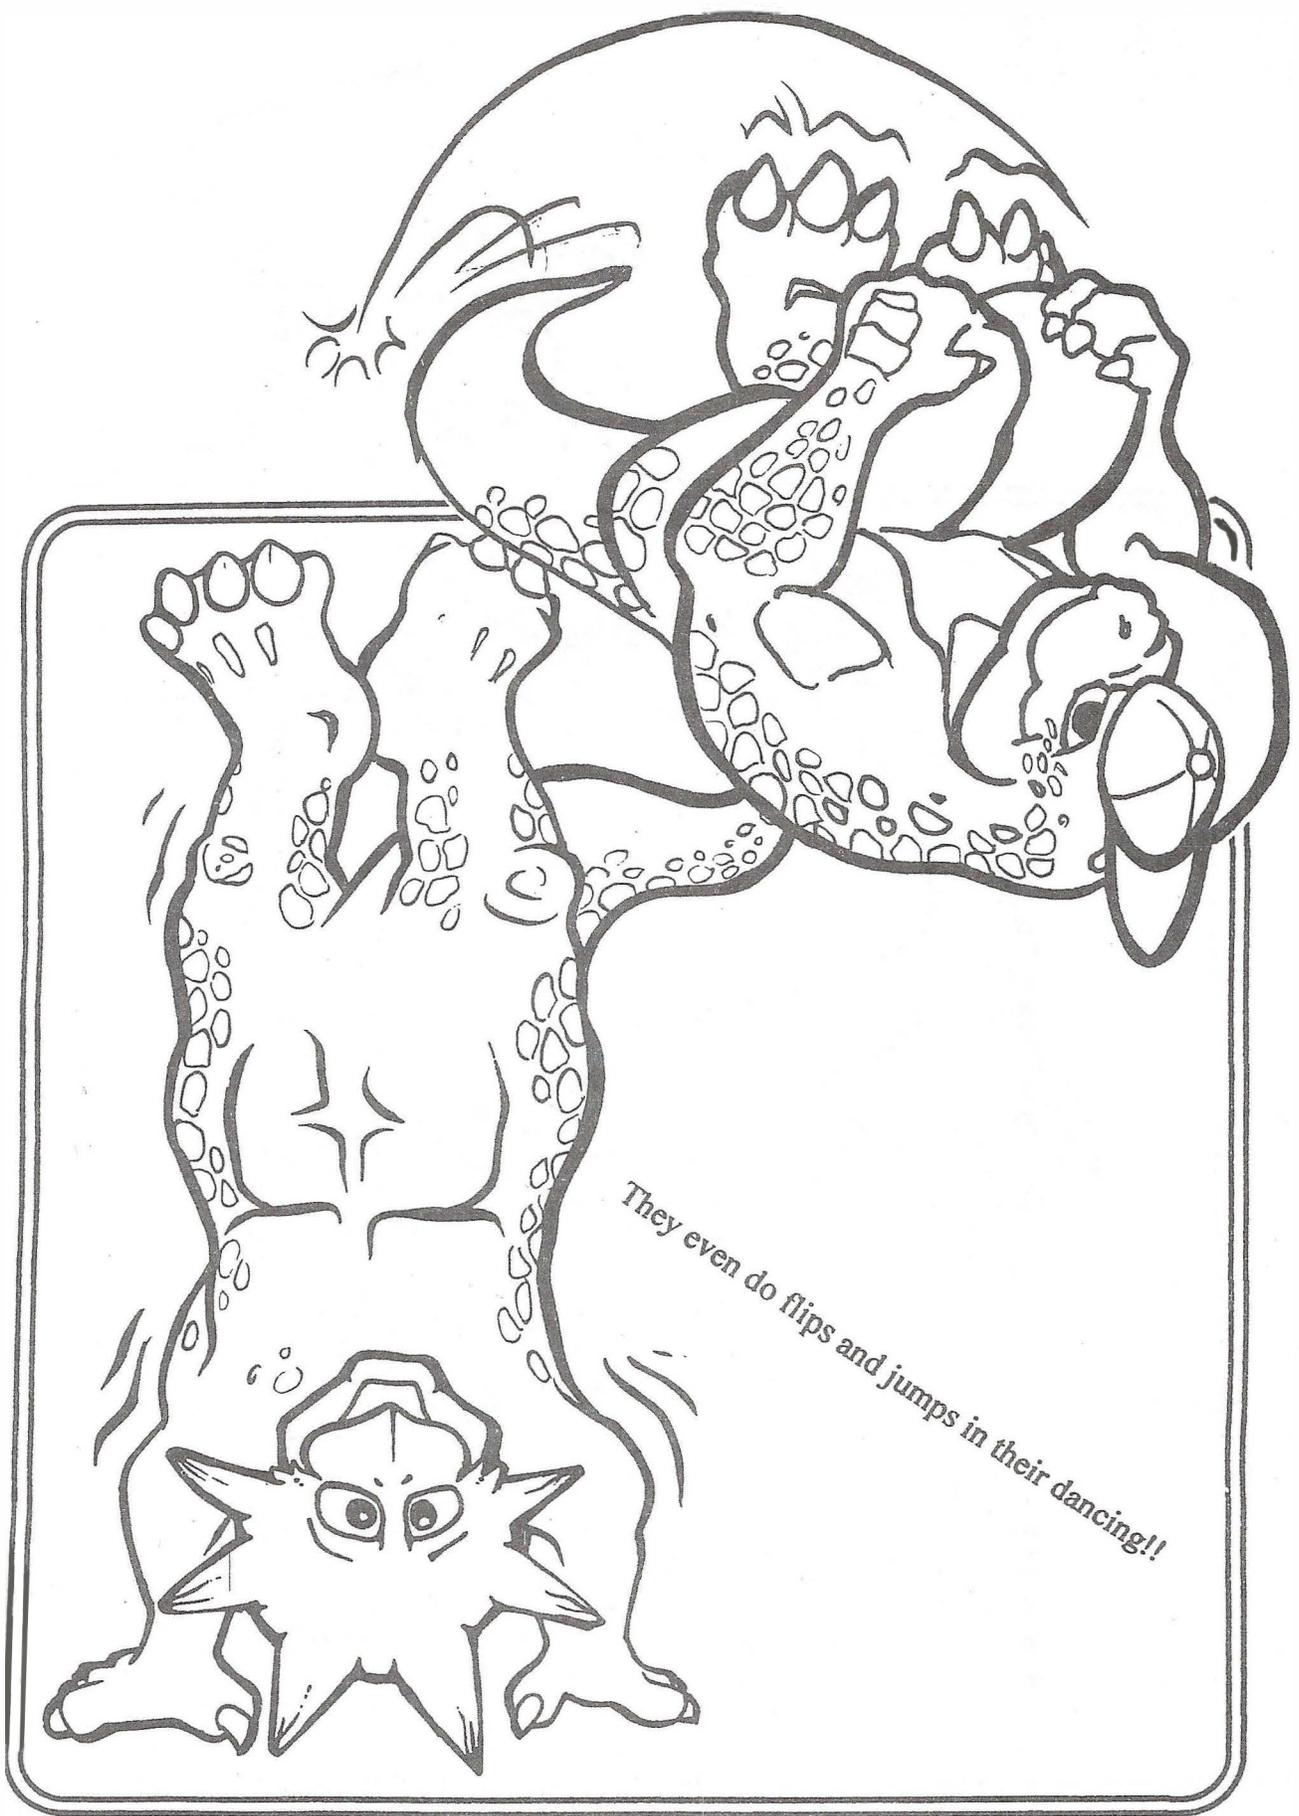

Sometimes when Bubba receives gum,
("Bubba Gum" as he calls it),
he wants to blow such big bubbles,
that someday he just might float away
high in the sky!!

Rocko Gecko and Ty Rex just laugh
every time he tries it!

One day the "Dangerous Dinos" were watching TV and heard some great music with dancing going on. They all agreed that they could learn to dance as well or better. So, once in a while they get together and have their own dance parties!! Rocko Gecko and Ty Rex discovered they can make up dances! It is great fun!!

They even do flips and jumps in their dancing!!

Well..., it's almost time for Bubba's nap. Since he just learned to say how old he is, he wants to tell everybody before he goes to sleep...

"I TWO!"

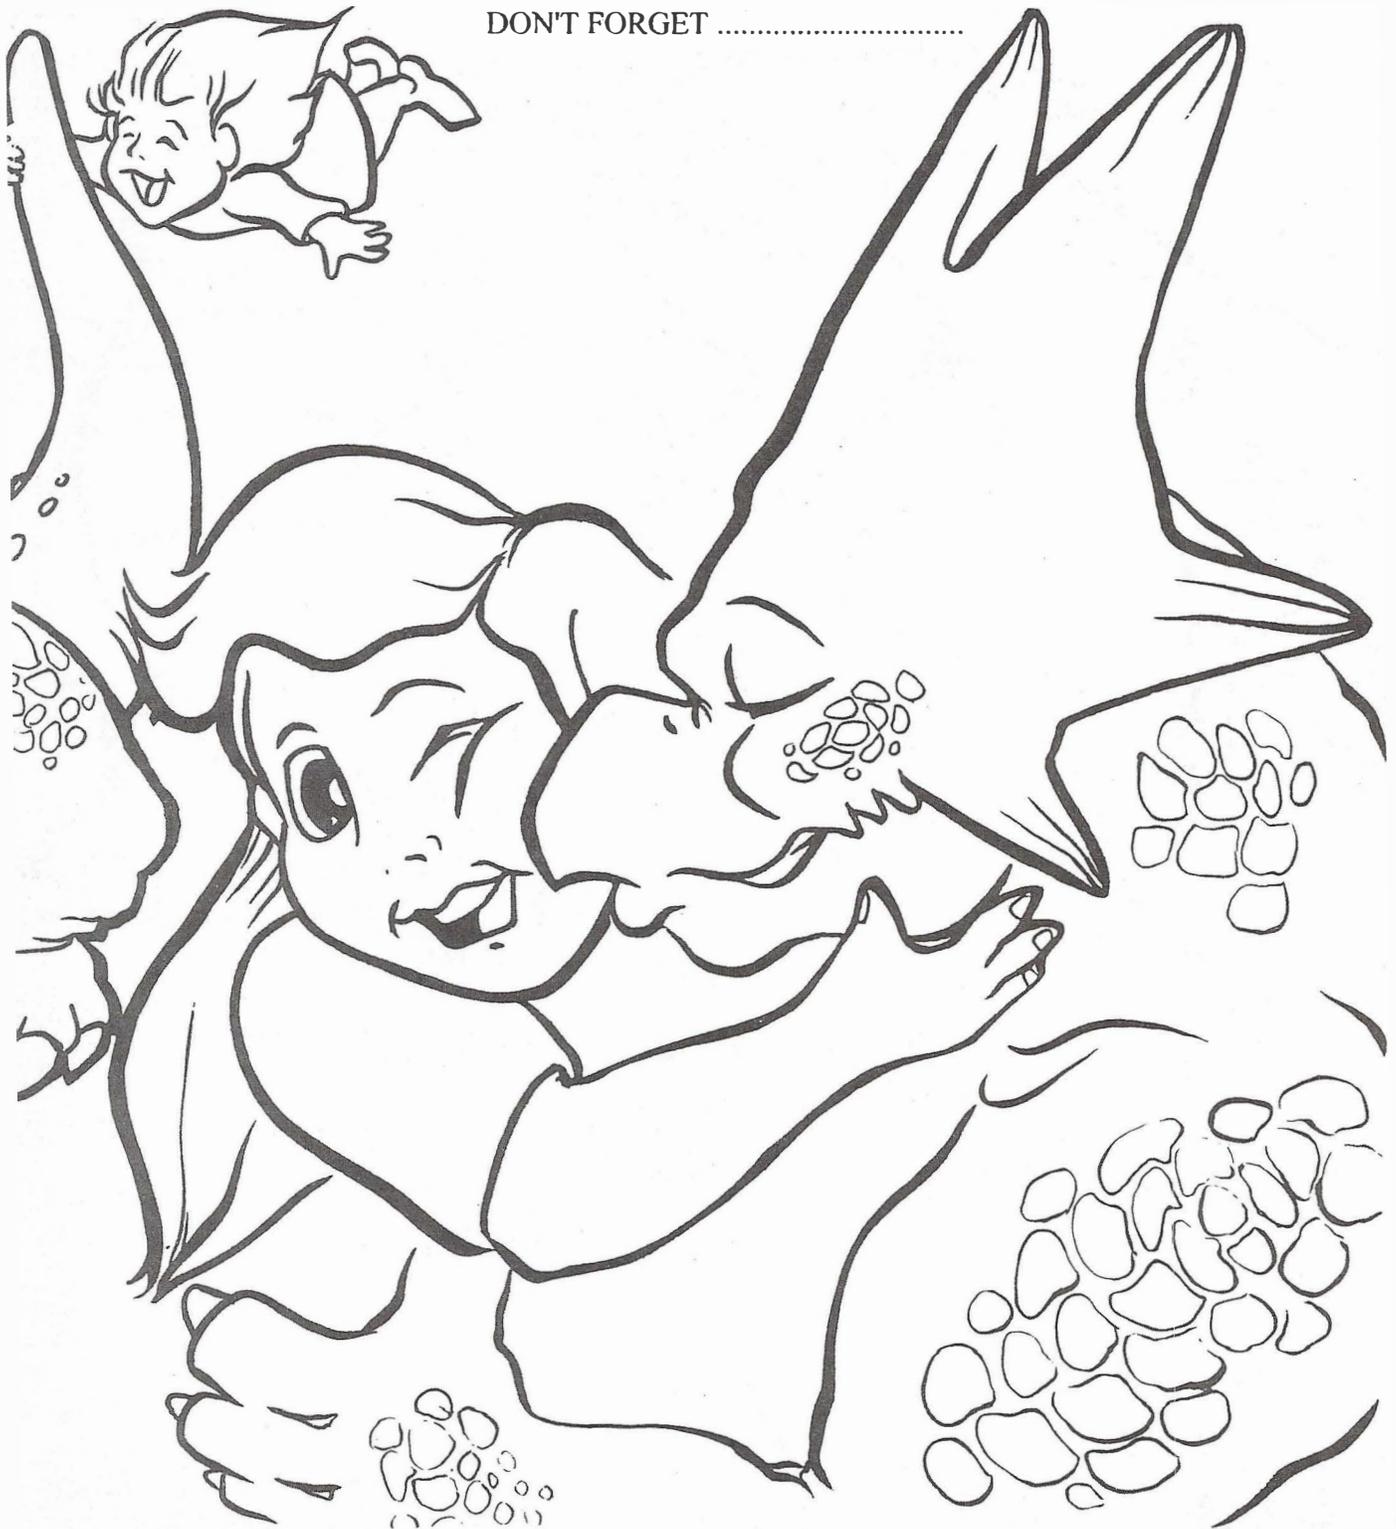

"I TWO!"

Rocko Gecko and Ty Rex want you to remember to have fun, be good to yourself and others, and one last very important thing!
